Mary is a senior associate in the corporate team.

She joined the firm from JAG Shaw Baker when they merged with Withers to create a new legal offering, Withers tech, in 2018.

Mary specialises in working with entrepreneurs, high-growth companies and investors in the life sciences and technology sectors. Mary is based in our Cambridge office and acts for a number of Cambridge based companies assisting them with commercialising their IP.

Mary trained with another law firm, having worked as a paralegal in their commercial and IP Team for three years supporting a US software and services provider.
