Lauren is a senior associate in the private client and tax team.

She advises on a broad range of complex trusts, tax and succession planning issues, both domestic and international. Lauren works closely with families, family offices and trustees to advise on the governance of international trust structures, and she regularly advises individuals and families on their wills and estate planning. Lauren also has a particular interest and expertise in digital assets, having advised on the taxation of cryptocurrency, structuring appropriate private holding vehicles for crypto and post-death digital asset planning strategies.

Lauren was named as a 'key lawyer' in the Legal 500 in 2022, described as an associate "who punches well above her weight and shows great maturity". Lauren was also named an eprivateclient Top 35 Under 35 in 2019, 2021 and 2022.

Lauren has advanced STEP qualifications in the taxation of international individuals and cross-border estate planning, both with distinction.
