Sally is an associate in the divorce and family team.

She advises on all legal issues arising in connection with family relationships, including the financial or children related issues that result from divorce/dissolution or the breakdown of unmarried relationships, and the creation of pre- and post-nuptial agreements. Sally has experience of complex international as well as domestic cases and works with clients across a spectrum of backgrounds, including City professionals, entrepreneurs and their spouses/partners.

On what can often feel an uncertain journey, Sally's aim is always to provide her clients with a clear road map for the resolution of the issues on which they are seeking advice.

During her training with the firm, Sally worked in the family, real estate, wealth planning and contentious trust and succession teams and therefore has a comprehensive understanding of the firm's wide-ranging client base and service offerings.
