Bo is an associate in the private client and tax team.

As a U.S.-qualified tax lawyer based in Singapore, he advises high-net-worth clients on U.S. and international tax and family succession matters. His practice focuses on cross-border trust and estate planning, U.S. immigration or expatriation, and U.S. tax compliance.

Prior to joining our Singapore practice, Bo worked at a prominent law firm in New York City and London, as well as at an accounting firm, where he advised clients on a broad spectrum of U.S. tax matters.

He is native in Mandarin Chinese, enabling him to effectively assist Mandarin-speaking clients, particularly those with U.S. connections.
