Our Family team has been selected for the 'Family/Matrimonial Mediation Law Firm of the Year' title at this year's Citywealth Magic Circle Awards. The award, which is decided based upon the votes of individuals working in the professional services and wealth management sectors, is a very welcome recognition of the team's capabilities in mediation. Withers has been building its strengths in non-court solutions for family disputes since 2011, with the objective of offering clients a full range of alternative dispute resolution options, so that they can select the most suitable and effective. These now comprise mediation (including using both the family and commercial mediation models), arbitration and collaborative law and we are delighted to see the success of our efforts acknowledged through this award.
