The most significant US tax reform in over 30 years was signed into law on 22 December. Most of the provisions took immediate effect on the 1 January, leaving little time for the market and advisors to digest these reforms and the implications to those affected.

Our team of US lawyers will discuss how these changes are going to impact the Swiss and international markets and our clients. We will be hosting a breakfast seminar to answer the question of what these changes mean and what clients and intermediaries should be doing, with a specific focus on what this means for those with US interests, and or, US family members. Some of the topics covered will include:

- Inbound investments into the US
- Estate planning and gift and taxes
- Grantor trust and US sites asset planning
- US corporate versus flowthrough entity changes and opportunities
- Impact on US real estate markets

Join us and our panel of experts where we will cover all of the above and the latest updates.

The seminar will be hosted on Wednesday 24 January from 8.30am until 9.30am with an 8.15am registration.
