

The Trump Administration's tariffs on China will not include art

19 SEPTEMBER 2018

CATEGORY:
ARTICLE

CLIENT TYPES:
ART AND CULTURAL INSTITUTIONS

GOVERNMENT

On September 17, 2018, the Trump Administration published a revised list of Chinese goods that will be subject to US tariffs, totaling $200 billion worth of goods. The new list did not include Chinese art and antiquities, which were originally included in a prior version of the list released in July 2018.

The removal of art and antiquities of the list of Chinese goods was a result of protest from dealers and auction houses in the previous month.

If you have any questions regarding this update, please contact our art team.

Authors

Diana Wierbicki

PARTNER | NEW YORK

Art law

 +1 212 848 9857

 diana.wierbicki@withersworldwide.com

Amanda A. Rottermund

ASSOCIATE | NEW YORK

Art law

 +1 212 848 9892

 amanda.rottermund@withersworldwide.com

Sarah Verano

ASSOCIATE | NEW YORK

Art law

 +1 212 848 9831

 sarah.verano@withersworldwide.com