Attitudes to Wealth: views on how successful people can shape tomorrow's world

As the law firm for success, we understand our clients' needs and their position in the world. We believe that perceptions of wealth are changing and that now is the right time to take a step back and gain a wider view of how different people across the world view wealthy families and individuals. As wealth inequality continues to intensify, positive and well-informed engagement by the most wealthy in society could make a vital difference to our shared future.
