We are proud to announce Withers' William Kambas was recognized in the Family Capital list of Top100 Influences, in respect to the world of family businesses and family office. Featuring notable names such as Warren Buffet and James Dyson, the accolade is particularly prestigious.

His write-up by Family Capital is as follows:

William Kambas

Partner, Withers Bergman

Withers has a host of top lawyers who deal with family enterprises, many of them family offices. But Kambas came up as the top nomination from our survey. The US-based lawyer, whose expertise is centered on tax planning, has advised many family office clients in the US and abroad. Given the increased complexity of multi-jurisdictional families and family-owned assets, Kambas is one of the top legal experts offering advice in this area. Those who nominated him say the Withers lawyer is one of the few who truly understands the issues for family offices and their principals when it comes to tax planning and regulatory issues.
