Antonio is an associate in the corporate team.

He advises private companies and individuals on corporate matters, M&A and real estate transactions. He assists both Italian clients in relation to their commercial interests and foreign companies who are willing to invest in Italy.

His activity includes drafting investment and shareholders' agreements, giving opinions on corporate matters and negotiating international and domestic contracts.

Prior to joining Withers, Antonio worked for a boutique law firm, gaining experience on commercial litigation, with a focus on liability of directors and statutory auditors, particularly in the context of insolvency procedures.
