Hannah is an associate in the charities team.

Hannah completed her period of qualified training at Macfarlanes LLP, and worked in the charity sector before joining the Withers charities and philanthropy team in January 2022.

Hannah advises both charities and philanthropists, helping clients navigate the law on issues such as fundraising and charity governance, to deliver good causes.

Her work also includes helping individuals and organisations plan and set up new charitable projects, including the establishment of new charities in England & Wales.
