Alice is an associate in the immigration team.

Alice advises a broad range of international clients on all aspects of UK immigration and nationality law. She has particular expertise in acting for corporate and media-sector clients, and high net worth individuals. Her practice increasingly responds to the needs of European citizens seeking to establish permanent residence in the UK and she advises them on strategic options for protecting their freedom of movement in light of the UK's proposed departure from the EU.

Nominated for the 2010 Law Society Excellence Award, Alice is also a member of the Immigration Law Practitioners Association.

Alice spent a number of years working with internally displaced persons in Colombia and doing advocacy in the US on behalf of an international human rights organisation. She is completely fluent in French and Spanish.
