Sarah is a senior associate in the corporate team.

She joined the firm from JAG Shaw Baker when they merged with Withers to create a new legal offering, Withers tech, in 2018.

Sarah is a corporate and venture capital lawyer who provides advice to start-ups and entrepreneurs as well as to investors and high-growth companies, from seed investments to later stage funding through to exits in the venture capital, technology, fashion and clean tech sectors.

Sarah qualified as a solicitor in Scotland after completing her training contract at JAG Shaw Baker. Before joining JAG Shaw Baker, Sarah undertook internships with a US law firm in New York and also with the in-house legal team of Alere Inc, a NASDAQ listed diagnostics and health management company.
